

African Journal Of Agriculture, Nutrition And Hospitality (AJANH)

E-ISSN 3050-2276 (Online); ISSN 3050-2268 (Print)

Indexed by EBSCO and SABINET

Volume 2, Number 2, December 2025

Pp 5-6

Editorial Note

DOI: <https://doi.org/10.31920/3050-2276/2025/v2n2a0>

Dr Sylven Masoga

*LUNEX - University of Applied Sciences
Nutrition, Fitness, and Health Programme
Differdange, Luxembourg.*

Dear readers,

Welcome to the fourth edition of the African Journal of Agriculture, Nutrition and Hospitality. This edition presents a collection of articles that address some of the most critical issues in contemporary agriculture, and food production and culinary.

The convergence of global food security concerns and the imperative for sustainable development forms the overarching theme of this issue. The papers selected for this volume not only highlight innovative research but also offer practical insights into improving efficiency and resilience in agricultural systems across different geographical contexts.

The following articles are presented:

1. Consequences of Different Cooking Methods on the Quality Attributes of Pork
2. Covering Risk Or Covering Up? The Role and Effectiveness of Agricultural Insurance under Farmer Input Support Programme (Fisp) In Nalubanda, Zambia

3. Exploring the contribution of the Taung Irrigation Scheme to small-scale farmers'

household's food security in Greater Taung Local Municipality, South Africa

4. Impacts of Chinese technology transfer on agricultural productivity and sustainable development in Nanga-Eboko, Cameroon: A mixed-methods study

We trust you will find the articles in this issue both informative and thought-provoking.

Sincerely,

Sylvén Masoga